

MANN REPORT RESIDENTIAL

February 2013

PLATINUM PROPERTIES – HOLIDAY PARTY

Platinum Properties recently celebrated the holiday season with friends and colleagues at Cipriani Wall Street. The firm, which was founded in Lower Manhattan, held a 50/50 raffle at the party with the Downtown Alliance to donate half of all proceeds to the organization's Back to Business Small Business Grant Program.

Platinum Properties manages over $150 million of real estate and has brokered such notable residential sales as 92 Laight Street in Tribeca; the final three penthouse units at Trump World Tower; the most expensive single residential unit in the Financial District at The Setai; and most recently, the ocean-front triplex penthouse apartment at The Continuum South Tower in Miami Beach, a record sale for the East Coast excluding New York. ■

Daniel Hedaya, Khashy Eyn, Jeff Gordon, Paul Buttenhoff, Julia Bryzgalina, and Dezireh Eyn

Khashy Eyn and Danny Hakakian of DDC; Ray Cecora and Alex Sakhai of Alexander's Antiques; Daryoush Eynalhor of D&D Antiques; Gallery D.J. Dashti and agent; Cyrus Eyn and Adam Daniels of AD Real Estate; and Daniel Hedaya

Daniel Hedaya, Khashy Eyn, Julia Bryzgalina, Matt Soall, Paul Buttenhoff, and Dezireh Eyn

Daniel Hedaya, Julia Bryzgalina, Andrew Scheck, Paul Buttenhoff, Dezireh and Khashy Eyn

Dr. Ruth, Dezireh Eyn, and Khashy Eyn

John Cohen, Dominique Richards, Teresa Silva, and Guest

Paul Buttenhoff, Daniel Hedaya, Julia Bryzgalina, Adam Mariucci, Khashy and Dezireh Eyn

Nora Brossard, Robert Cleary, Darla Alpizar, Chris Mitchell, and Julia Bryzgalina

Guest, Teresa Stephenson, Elizabeth Waterman, and Guest

Daniel Hedaya, Khashy Eyn, Julia Bryzgalina, Barclay Smyly, Paul Buttenhoff, and Dezireh Eyn