Real Estate Porn: Ultimate Pads in NYC, Prague, Costa Smerelda, and Cannes
Our weekly round up of the hottest new listings on the market. You wish you lived here.

By Jessica Chia

Location: Sunny Tribeca loft in New York City

Price: $7,495,00

Size: 4,000 square feet

Key selling point: This gorgeous apartment looks like a million bucks, but is worth so much more thanks to custom-milled, hand-sourced hickory flooring, mahogany window frames, blue pearl granite countertops, lyptus wood cabinets, a Wolff range, Miele appliances, and bathroom floors of limestone. And while those vitals may get your heart pumping, guests at your housewarming party will be more interested in the amazing city views than your badass cooktop.
