

June 9, 2014

<http://www.decoist.com/2014-06-09/exclusive-new-york-city-penthouse-alex-birkenstock/>

Exclusive Antique Collection And Iconic Views Shape Elite New York Penthouse

We often talk about vintage style and decor and feature chic modern kitchens and living spaces that offer a contemporary reinterpretation of the classic designs. But this remarkable and inimitable 30th floor penthouse located in the Setai Wall Street is filled with vintage collectibles and antiques that have been carefully assembled by its owner Alex Birkenstock. The apartment was redone and customized by Steve Harivel, who is popular across the planet for shaping the interior of the tasteful Soho House Hotels. Dazzling you with an array of rare and amazing antiques, this is a home for those who wish to make a sizzling style statement!

Located in a skyscraper that features a fitness center, spa and valet services, a bicycle room, a rooftop terrace and integrated WiFi services, the lavish apartment will drape you in unadulterated luxury. Coming with two amazing bedroom and three bathroom that feature historic decor additions, the penthouse itself offers a relaxing Jacuzzi and sauna along with unabated views of the iconic New York City skyline, Statue of Liberty and the Hudson River in the distance. One of the two entrances of the penthouse leads into a living area that is covered with reclaimed hardwood floors from the Portuguese embassy in Paris. And that is just the start of the remarkable collection that the luxurious home holds!

Large glass doors separate the living areas from the bedrooms and the large sauna bathroom, while stainless steel Art Deco doors from a 1920s theater in Hawaii stand tall in the kitchen. The living area Napoleon III chairs, tufted sofas in mohair, vintage French leather club chairs along with industrial style lighting that creates a magical and timeless setting. Exposed brick walls add to the overall appeal of the penthouse that borrows generously from vintage, Art Deco, industrial and rustic design elements. Yet, state-of-the-art appliances and contemporary services are seamlessly intertwined in this old world setting.

Every room of this phenomenal space is adorned by European antiquities and rare, vintage additions that will leave you awestruck. Currently listed by Platinum Properties, this dream home will set you back by $12.99 million. But then, its artistic interiors are well and truly priceless!

