

June 3, 2009

Miami feels the Platinum touch

With a big assist from Wall Street-based Platinum Properties, the triplex penthouse apartment in the South Tower at The Continuum — a backdrop for the DreamWorks film, Red Eye — has just sold for $9.9 million.

The tri-level home in the exclusive oceanfront gated condo development on Miami Beach, had been on the market since 2007, but it took just 48 hours to close after the buyer was referred by Khashy Eyn and Philip Askeroth of Platinum.

“Our buyer was looking for an exclusive apartment at a luxurious destination along the water. We are proud to have helped him find his dream residence — a home he was so excited about, he closed and relocated in just a matter of days,” said Eyn (left).