NEW LISTINGS

Tony Leondis and Daniel Hedaya at Platinum Properties have brought the re-invented 9 Commerce Street to market at $6,950,000. The 2,800 s/f townhouse sits on a quiet residential street within the landmark historic district of Greenwich Village. It has been redesigned and completely renovated by GRADE Architecture + Interior Design. There are three stories plus basement, three levels of outdoor space, and a classic brick façade with wrought iron detailing. The 21 ft. house has three bedrooms, three full baths and two powder rooms. There's a patio on the ground floor, a Juliette balcony off the dining room, and a sun deck on the home's rooftop. There's a private garden and patio area, which is laid out in custom wood decking.
